April Showers bring May Flowers.... And more showers??

Fortunately, Mother Nature decided to smile, at least for the first half of the day, on April 27 for the spring cruise. While I could not make the cruise, I've heard many a glowing report on the entire event from start to finish! Stan Farlow's letter talks a bit about it. An article will be put together for the June Paw Prints covering the event with a lot of help from those who attended. Then it will get sent along for potential print in the Legend!

One of the things that kept me from the cruise was getting my GTO out of storage and home. I took advantage of the beautiful morning to do so. It's home now and I've got a lot of work to do ahead of the Nationals including: New hood hinges, freshly re-painted hood, new headlight door actuators, new dash bling, a new trunk harness and a TON of cleaning. What's on your list? Let me know and I'll put it in the next edition.

Have you registered for the Nationals? It will be here before you know it. With it being so close to Columbus and just outside Cincinnati, you really should make it a must for this summer.

The club is also in the throws of planning both our shows for the summer. The Battle of the Brands show in Sunbury and our 35th All Pontiac Indian Uprising. We can't put these shows on without your help! So please sign up when asked!

Lastly, I will send out a weekly car show email to the club's mailing list. Some of you will get it twice as this is the email I started sending to all my car buddies (not just the club). NOTE that it will say GTOACO Edition in the subject so you know who will receive your reply. So DON'T reply all to the other one please if you want to reach out to the club.

Until the next meeting or the next car show I see you at, have fun and stay safe!

—Kevin

's Letter

Sunshine, blue skies, cool temperatures, and good roads always make a good day for a car person. Add lots of planning, lots of participation, low key effective implementation and you have a great day. Yesterday was an awesome spring cruise. We had a good mix of old and new GTOs, no breakdowns, outstanding hosts, and a lot of good time. We started off near Hebron, picked up several folks in Cambridge, and then drove the scenic route to lunch at The Farm Restaurant near Adena Ohio. Judge Frank A Fregiato, Belmont County Common Pleas Court, (also a columnist for GTOAA 's Legend) made a presentation about the Belmont County Drug Court. It was good to hear about the efforts to combat the drug problem in Belmont County. Much of the effort is focused on not only recovery but also on reaching out to kids (even at the kindergarten and 1st grade level) to keep them from starting on drugs. From there we had a Police escort (leading not chasing) to Butch and Liz Miller 's car collection in Martin 's Ferry Ohio.

The Millers purchased a building that had been an old car dealership and converted it to a "man cave " with space to work on cars. There was a lot of effort and planning devoted to our visit including the restaurant opening for lunch just for us, escorts to the restaurant. TV coverage of us at the restaurant, Police escorts from the restaurant to the Millers car collection, and off duty police presence to watch our cars while we were visiting. Even our lunch tab was covered. All in all the day was more than we expected. I am not sure how Brian D ' Amico pulled this off but we all owe him a big thank you for this special day and for the amount of promotion given to our club and hobby. We also owe a big thank you to the Millers and to Judge Fregiato for their time and generosity.

Next up is the GTOAA Nationals late in June. If you haven 't registered for Nationals yet you need to do it very soon. The website is working well so it 's easy to register and I know the Ohio Valley GTO Association folks are anxious to hear from you. This is going to be a good time at a great venue. I hope many of you are planning on attending.

The year is off to a great start with the Swap Meet and the Spring Cruise both being top notch events. We are looking for options for the fall cruise and for summer car shows where we might participate as a club. We also want information you can share on your ongoing restorations and the best photo that goes with the caption "smoke em if you 've got em ".

Road Trip: Dayton's Packard Museum

By Steve Schaeffer

The world's only restored Packard Dealership is in Dayton, Ohio operating as a Packard Museum. The building at 420 S. Ludlow Street, Dayton, Ohio 45402 was built in 1917. The restored cars are on display in the original showroom and dealership. The building remained a Packard dealership through 1939.

Their phone number is 937-226-1710. They are open daily from noon to 5pm, Monday thru Friday, 1 till 5pm Saturday and Sunday, and closed on Christmas and New Year's Day. Admission is $6.00 for adults, $5.00 for seniors and students $4.00.

The museum's managing director is Daniel Badger. His email address is dbadger@americaspackardmuseum.org.

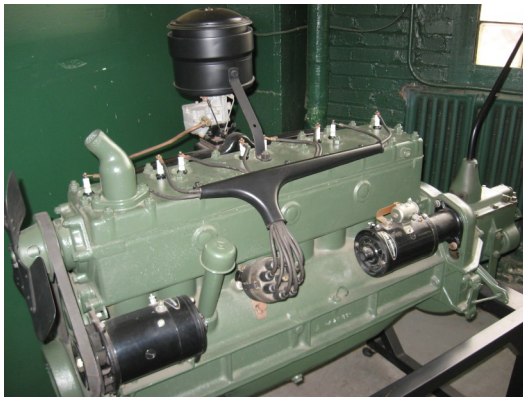

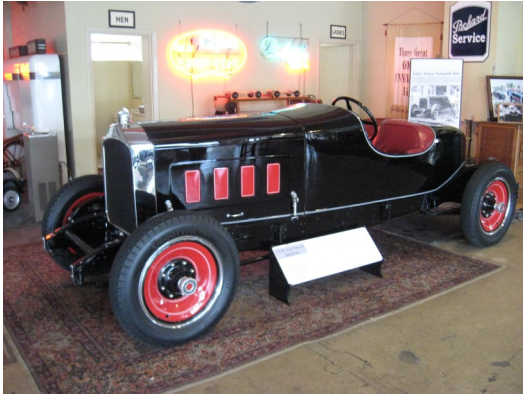

Packard's were known for their luxury, reliability, and innovation. The attached pictures show how stately the cars were.

The building also has a basement where the cars are restored and maintained. All the cars run and drive. As a serious gear-head I wanted to see the shop and service department, but it was off limits.

Besides manufacturing cars Packard also manufactured engines for airplanes and boats. In addition to all the automobile engines and transmissions on display there is a Packard built World War One Liberty aircraft engine. During World War Two Packard manufactured aircraft engines and the engines for the famed PT boats which are also on display. They even manufactured some of America's first jet engines.

In the 40's and early 50's they had straight eights as large as 356 cubic inches and 160 horsepower. They even built a 327 straight eight with 9 main bearings and 180 horsepower in 1953. But these were not modern engines since Cadillac and Oldsmobile brought out their OHV V-8 engines in 1949. The Chrysler Fire-Power Hemi came out in 1951.

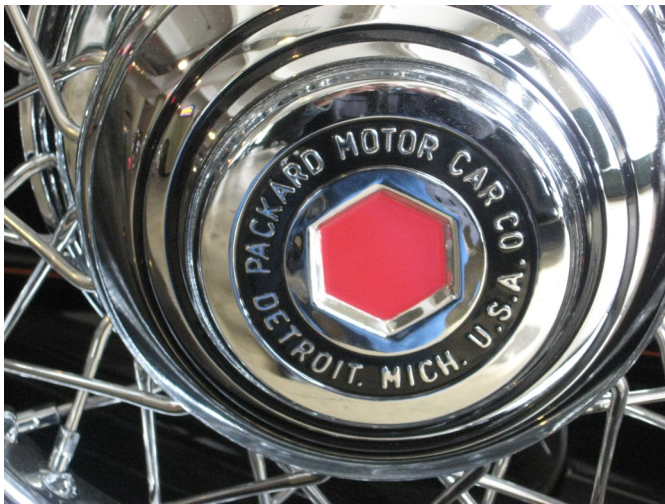

For comparison the beloved Ford Flathead V-8 in 1953 was 239 cubic inches and 110 horsepower. The '53 Pontiac straight eight was 268 cubic inches and 118 horsepower with a stick or 122 horsepower with an automatic. Even the modern '53 Oldsmobile Overhead Valve V-8 was 303 cubic inches and 165 horsepower in the Super 88.

What really hurt Packard was the very conservative styling of the '51 thru '54 models. The consumers found it dull and uninteresting compared to the then modern styling of Cadillac and Lincoln. The cars didn't sell and their Ultramatic automatic transmission was troublesome. Despite their horsepower the straight eights were considered pre-war engines.

Packard should have been saved by the modern styling and modern overhead valve V-8 engines but it didn't happen. Packard production stopped in June of 1958 after a merger with Studebaker that didn't work. The last Packard's were really Studebakers with Packard logos and trim.

Packard's greatest cars are on display in the museum along with the part's department and a lot of memorable. Some of the original clay styling models are on display as well as some early speed equipment.
